CEBE Opposes Recall

Citizens For Emphasis On Basic Education has voted to oppose the recall of three members of the board of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District.

The proposed recall of Dr. Cyril Padfield, president, and two members, Dr. William McCandless and Victor M. Walton was unanimously opposed at a meeting at the home of F. L. Wade, group president.

This support for the majority board members was forthcoming because of their consistent support of basic education, as evidenced by their implementation of the Amidon program at Kempton School, and their continued efforts to provide quality education for the district taxpayers in the face of constant harrassment and abuse from dissident minority board members and special interest pressure groups," Wade pointed out.

In further action, CEBE passed a resolution commending Dr. Padfield, Dr. McCandless and Victor Walton for bringing Dr. Carl Hansen, Washington D. C. School Superintendent, to this district. "Hansen's views on basic education were enthusiastically received by an overwhelming majority of the parents," Wade said. Dr. Hansen is the originator of the Amidon plan.

Wade also said that resolutions passed by his organization "deplored the presumptious action of Dr. Robert Briggs in demanding that the members of the board of trustees of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District violate their position of trust and resign upon the demand of a contentious minority."

The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

Burglaries Are Costly

No less a personage than J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, takes a look at the high public cost of burglary in the current issue of the January issue of the FBI's Law Enforcement Bulletin.

Burglaries, he says, accounted for almost half of the 2,600,000 serious crimes committed in the past year.

Examining the anatomy of the art of burglary, Hoover delves deeply into the FBI files.

Burglaries, he says, often have unsuspected starting points. An Ohio hoodlum overheard a fellow drinker in a bar tell about a vacation trip he had coming up the next week. A midwestern veterinarian admitted turning to burglary as a sideline when numerous wealthy clients left their pets with him while taking extended trips.

Others have used door-to-door sales techniques, pretending to be laundrymen, photographers and the like. Others rely on chance observations—drawn shades, unmowed lawns, newspapers scattered or milk bottles stacked on the porch. A midwestern burglar specializing in sex crimes selected his victims by looking for female names on apartment house mailboxes (advice: use initials instead of first names).

Some operators have been known to research newspapers and burglarize socially prominent people when there is a big social function in town. Other burglars are known to frequent operas, concerts, plays and the like in order to spot women wearing expensive furs and jewelry. A west coast city hoodlum sacrificed himself to work—got a job in an expensive restaurant and gained access to reservation records. He would then alert an accomplice and stand guard over the diners while the accomplice did his job.

In London, a gang used a chauffeur-driven limousine to steal more than $100,000 worth of property. The car attracted no attention in exclusive neighborhoods.

One group stationed a watcher at the town's freeway on-ramp. Auto licenses numbers of drivers with vacation luggage were traced and their homes looted.

One burglar explained that he "daylighted" because at night his life was in danger. A homeowner might come after him with a revolver. By day, he said, there is little danger. The housewife usually leaves the door open while she goes to socialize with her neighbors.

Some monitor police radio calls and work the opposite side of the area from where the calls originated. In Pittsburgh and Washington, burglars are using ammonia-loaded water-pistols to ward off watchdogs.

An early-morning burglar revealed that he grabs a sack from the garbage can as he completes his chore. Observers see him as a laborer with a sack of lunch on his way to work.

Testimony to the intelligence and ingenuity of teenagers—one group of youthful burglars hides part of the loot in the owner's house to discredit the reliability of the victim as a witness.

But the cops have tricks too. In San Diego the police read the same society pages as the burglars did. Cops were stationed at the home of each guest during a high social event and they caught the "society burglar." In another California city a "cat burglar" was caught when a cruising patrolman started marking tires during the night. When an unmarked car showed up shortly before dawn one morning he instituted a stakeout. They caught the burglar with the loot when he returned to his car.

There are other ploys used by the police to protect your home but the less these are publicized, the more effective they are.

Burglars may never be stopped entirely—but they can be discouraged more than they are by homeowners exercizing a reasonable amount of caution. One of the simplest means is to notify the sheriff's office when the home is to be unoccupied for several days. The periodic appearance of a prowl car in the neighborhood is in itself a deterrent.

DRIVER MEETS LAW — Shaunda Elcombe, a Monte Vista student in the Grossmont High School District's driver education program, is showing her learner's permit to Highway Patrol Officer John Annis while another trainee, Kathy Zimmerman, a Mount Miguel student, watches. The program is designed around high, basic standards so that each trainee knows the rules and what is expected of the driver.

Driver Education Program Is Boon To Young Drivers

by Max Goodwin

One youngster in three who wants to take driver education training at high schools in the Grossmont District is not permitted to do so.

This is the sorry plight of teen-agers with a yen to learn to drive properly, and for Clifford Buck, coordinator of driver information and education for the district's eight high schools.

What's more, pressure is mounting for driver training because next year, in July, drivers' licenses will not be issued until the applicant's 18th birthday—unless he has completed a course in high school driver's education. With driver's training, he may acquire his license as early as sixteen.

Twelve Cars

Grossmont District operates 12 cars for training. These cars are provided without cost by safety-minded local auto dealers. The District employs 13 instructors. These instructors are presently training more than 400 students out of which an average of 10 will fail to make the grade.

According to Buck's estimate, 200 youngsters will be denied this training because of inadequate facilities and training personnel. That means 200 drivers may reach the road with whatever bad driving habits their instructors may have possessed.

In the high school program instructors use films and simulators to develop good driving habits. Improved in the program is the development of a proper driving attitude. Overcoming defiance or disdain—the cause of many accidents—is one of the instructors' first objectives.

According to Buck, the high school-trained driver, as he is graduated, is usually superior in safety habits than most self-taught adults even when the latter has years of experience.

Takes Hazard From Road

What do law enforcement officers think of the driver training program? California Highway Patrol Officer John Annis, a Lemon Grove resident and veteran of 15 years in the service of which 7 years have been devoted to training and education, gives unqualified approval of the high school training program.

"Of course," says he, "there is no way we can tell which driver has had high school driver training but the fact that the simulator removes from the roadway the hazardous early training program is welcomed by enforcement officers.

"Probably the happiest outcome of this training is the standardization of proper training. This means every driver in the program starts on a safe sound basis with good driving habits built around a proven program."

"Trainees with alert interest in driving know that their training is standard and this gives them confidence. This also helps create the proper traffic attitude which is an important part of safe driving," he said.

New Cars Used

Why does a dealer contribute the use of a new $3,000 auto to a driver education program? Pat Grace, who operates Spears Ford in Lemon Grove, explains the rationale for his firm's participation.

"Auto dealers should share in the responsibility for highway safety. It is our product which populates the highways," he said. "We want to see our drivers exercizing good safety practices no less than a doctor wants to see his patients exercising good health practices.

"It distresses me that so many youngsters are denied training because of the lack of instructors. We commit ourselves to full support of the high school driver training program in hope that the time will come when no youngsters will be denied the benefit of safe driving training."

Instructors in the program, according to Buck, are paid from a pool into which traffic lawbreakers pay. Presently there is a $2 fee added to each fine the motorists pays.

Since the use of the autos is contributed by dealers, youngsters are able to get driver education and driver training without cost.

In all, it is a happy program. It pleases the students, the police, and the other motorists. It is equally rewarding to parents who trust the family vehicle to the care of their youngster.

Dr. McCandless Rejects Move On Resignation

The La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board of Education will not resign as requested by a group called the Community Council For Public Schools.

The decision was reached at noon Wednesday when Dr. William McCandless, member of the board, refused to go along with the request brought forward by Dr. Robert Briggs, chairman of the CCPS, at a special board meeting Friday.

McCandless said, "It is a contentious minority that is asking for the ultimatum at a set time and date. It is ridiculous that a responsible decision could be set at a certain time. "The deadline labels it as a political manuever."

The request, in a form of a letter to each board member, asked that the board resign by 5 p.m. Wednesday to "bring about an end to the discord in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District."

The other four members of the board, chairman Dr. Cyril Padfield, Fred Jabusch, Hardy Kuykendall, Jr. and Victor Walton, would have gone along with the mass resignation if McCandless would not have rejected it, according to Padfield.

"It depended upon McCandless. Since his answer is no, the board will not resign," said Padfield.

McCandless said he objected to the way in which the mass resignation request was presented," he said.

Padfield said Tuesday that a mass resignation "might be a pretty good solution to the dilemma. Everyone would have a chance to say what they wanted by election of a new board," he said.

Walton was non-committal and would only say he "had been thinking about it."

Jabusch, who returned Sunday from a trip to Mexico, offered to go along with the mass resignation as long as "I'm not the only one."

McCandless further added that the current strife begs the question "are the people going to rule the government or is the government going to rule the people?"

He said Tuesday that he would resign if it was the desire of the people and "not a desire of the political machine run by Murdock and his people." Glenn Murdock is superintendent of the LM-SV District.

McCandless had also remarked in a telephone interview Tuesday that "If we don't resign, it will be used as a political tool by Murdock's group."

Murdock has clashed with the board numerous times over educational procedure in the district, including the current issue of Amidon, a basic education program installed at Kempton St. School.

Read Psalm 91

We know that all things work together for good to them that love God. (Romans 8:28)

One day Charles H. Spurgeon, noted English preacher of the past century, was riding in the country. On a farmer's weather vane atop a barn he noticed the words "God is love." He turned in at the gate and asked the farmer, "What do you mean by that? Do you think God's love is changeable: that it veers about as that arrow turns in the wind?"

"Oh, no!" cried the farmer "I mean that whichever way the wind blows God is still love.'

How true it is that in spite of the storms and testings of life, sometimes coming with hurricane force, God never forsakes those who put their trust in him! He has not promised us a life of ease or security from storms and temptations. But thanks be to God, his love and His presence will be with us, "whichever way the wind blows."

Prayer: Eternal and loving God, may we ever be conscious of Thine all-embracing and ever-present love. Strengthen our faith in Thee, through all the experiences of life this day, and all our days. In the name of Jesus, who taught us the perfect prayer, "Our Father who art in heaven . . .Amen."

Thought for the day: Whichever way the wind blows, a Christian's life should reveal that God is love.

Local Evening Sections To Hold Night' At Globe

The Southern District 26 Evening Section of the California Federation of Woman's Clubs will sponsor a night at Old Globe Theatre Feb. 20 at 8 p.m.

Tickets for the play, "Roman Candle," are $2.50 and may be purchased from any of the evening section chairmen, according to co-ordinator Mrs. Edward Maczko, president of the La Mesa Woman's Club.

Money accrued from the show will go towards the cost of erecting the Mission Bells purchased by the evening sections last year. The six bells, which will be placed along the old Camino Real Trail, will need standards before being erected.

The Mission Bells' history dates back to 1906 when they were placed along the old Mission Trail. Over 450 were along that road at one time. However, through the years, vandalism, re-routing of the highways and lack of maintenance caused the bells to gradually disappear.

In 1959 a number of civic minded people and organizations formed a committee to replace the bells along El Camino Real.

The Vogue Section of the Lemon Grove Woman's Club and the Junta de la Noche Section of the Spring Valley Woman's Club are included among the six Southern District 26 evening sections participating in the project.

On Sunday, Sunday School is at 9:30 a.m.; worship services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

SV Woman's Club Hears Choraleers

Spring Valley Woman's Club held its annual "Family Night" meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Building, 9050 Memory Ln., last night.

Entertainment was furnished by the Bell Choraleers, a group of Pacific Telephone Company employees and their families, who have, since their organization in 1959, presented more than 150 programs throughout Southern California with a total attendance of over 25,000. Their programs offered a wide variety of music, including Broadway Show tunes, spirituals, old favorites, popular and novelty numbers. Their director, Jack Wilson organized the group.

Following the musical program, John Laskoski, also of the Pacific Telephone Company, gave a fifty-minute lecture on Space Communications, including filmed demonstrations of portions of his lecture.

LG Families Strengthen Friendship With Wedding

Two Lemon Grove families who have been lifelong friends and business partners celebrated an added bond Jan. 29 at a wedding.

Miss Thelma Dea Walker and Ensign Andrew R. Logie were united in marriage in a formal military ceremony at North Chapel, San Diego Naval Training Center.

Miss Walker is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Jordan, partners with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Woody, uncle and aunt of Ensign Logie. The Jordans and Woodys have operated Leewood Trailer Court in Lemon Grove since 1945.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Walker of Lemon Grove, carried a bridal bouquet on which a small bible was placed. The bible was carried by the bride's great-grandmother at her wedding in 1859. Inside the bible was a pressed flower from the bouquet and a handkerchief at the 1859 wedding. The handkerchief has been carried at every wedding by the brides of the family since 1859.

A tiered, revolving wedding cake at the reception held at Leewood Recreation Hall was designed by the bride's mother.

Five generations of women from the bride's family were in attendance, including Mrs. Charles Barnett, great-grandmother; Mrs. Jordan, grandmother; Mrs. Walker, the bride's mother; and flower girl Dona Lee Walker, niece of the bride.

The bride attends San Diego State College where she is a member of Gamma Phi Beta. The bridegroom is a graduate of San Fernando Valley State College and was affiliated with Delta Upsilon Fraternity while there.

A honeymoon trip was taken to Baja California by the newlyweds.

They will reside in Lemon Grove.

World-Famous Cellist To Perform Monday Eve.

One of the world's best cellists' Leonard Rose, will present the fourth Artist concert for the Grossmont Community Concert Association Monday at 8:15 p.m. in the Grossmont High School Auditorium.

Born in the nation's capital and brought up in Florida, Rose was a student of Felix Salmond at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. In 1938 he was engaged to play in Toscanini's NBC Symphony and after only three weeks was appointed assistant first cellist by the Maestro.

In 1944 he was appointed first cellist of the New York Philharmonic.

His last appearance as a member of that ensemble was at the 1951 Edinburgh Festival.

During the relatively brief time that has elapsed since his tenure as first-desk cellist of the New York Philharmonic he has risen from the ranks of orchestral musicians to his present magnitude as one of the most sought-after and lavishly praised virtuosos in the world today.

Rose will play a rare Amati 'cello, dated 1662. The New York Times said after a recital in 1965: "Leonard Rose is a master cellist who needs no comparisons with either predecessors or contemporaries to establish that fact."

Lemon Grove Veterinarian Heads Business Group

Announcement of the appointment of Dr. Frank D. McKenney of the San Diego Pet Hospital, at Lemon Grove as chairman of the Spring Valley-Lemon Grove Chapter of the National Federation of Independent Business, was made recently by Wm. H. Ayers Jr., District Manager of the Federation in this area.

Each business and professional man member of this organization maintains a voting membership, and is polled by ballots regularly throughout the year on bills and issues that affect independent enterprise at the national state levels.

In an effort to maintain the American way of life, and keep the free competitive system of business, businessmen express personal opinions on ballots each month and turn them over to Frank McKenney DVM, who makes tabulations.

These tabulations are sent directly to the desk of Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin in Washington and to State Senator Jack Schrade. They are the only means whereby independent business and professional people can keep in continuing, organized, personal, direct contact with their national and state legislators on measures that affect, locally and nationally, free enterprise opportunities.

The National Federation of Independent Business is a non-profit organization.

Tuberculosis Spreads Easily Warns Doctor

"A cough, a sneeze—even a song—may spread the germ of tuberculosis."

This was the statement of Dr. Amorita Treganza, Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area chairman of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of San Diego County, when she commented yesterday on the recent epidemic in a Detroit nursery school in which 14 children contracted TB after being exposed to one teacher with the disease in active form.

TB is passed from one person to another through the nose and mouth, Dr. Treganza said.

Tough Germ

The TB germ is a tough one. It can live outside the body, in the air, for several days. Once inhaled, it can live inside the body for years. It may remain inactive and walled off in a small lump called a "tubercle." When a person's resistance is low it may become active by breaking through the wall and causing illness.

"In terms of the Detroit epidemic, 14 children are known to have active tuberculosis now, others of the youngsters in that class no doubt have live TB germs in their bodies, inhaled from their teacher contact. Medical authorities state that although they are not sick now, they may develop tuberculosis some time later in life," Dr. Treganza said.

Why do these epidemics occur in a disease which most people feel is eradicated?

Reasons Given

Dr. Treganza said there are two reasons. One is the contagious nature of the disease. The other is that tuberculosis has not been eradicated.

She noted that by state law teachers and other school personnel in contact with children are required to have their chests x-rayed every two years.

"However," Dr. Treganza said, "this requirement only scratches the surface. There are many areas where regulations are loose. For example food handlers in the county are required to have only an initial health examination.

Skin Tests

"It would be prudent too for parents to require that baby sitters or domestic help they employ have tuberculin skin tests," Dr. Treganza said.

The U. S. Surgeon General's Task Force on TB recommended tuberculin skin testing of children entering school as part of a 10-year plan to produce a generation free of the disease.

Full support of the 10-year plan, to be carried out by the U. S. Public Health Service with the cooperation of health departments and state and local tuberculosis associations, could decrease the incidence of TB in children under the age of 15 by more than 90 per cent, Dr. Treganza said.

New Reader List Passes Half-Hundred

Another group of readers has joined the ranks of regular subscribers to this newspaper.

Not only are they subscribing to the hometown newspaper but they are making a contribution to their local welfare association.

In Lemon Grove and Spring Valley each community has its own welfare association which helps families over financially burdensome emergencies.

While the rate for a subscription is $3.50 a year, a dime is set aside for the welfare group. The dimes amount up and are sorely needed by the groups. Each says its funds are depleted and its food stockpiles are gone.

This week a list of 14 subscribers will aid welfare when they pay their subscription bill. Those who live in Lemon Grove will be aiding the welfare group in that community. Spring Valley subscribers will aid the one in their community.

The 14 new names brings the total to 51 for the current project. The newest list:

Education Is Key

Requirements Stiffen In Law Enforcement

BY NORM HUTSELL

Law enforcement has come a long way since the days of "give them a uniform, a badge and a gun and send them out", according to Vince Alfaro, co-ordinator of police science education at Grossmont College.

Alfaro, speaking before members of the Lemon Grove Men's Club Friday at the weekly luncheon meeting at Michael's Restaurant, told of the advances made in law enforcement and the added requirements for becoming a policeman.

"Education is taking an increasing importance in the line of police work," Alfaro said.

Degree Required

"Some police systems require two years of completed work at the college level. One county in Oregon requires at least a baccalaureate degree before employing an applicant in the field of police work," he said.

However, there are only 106 colleges and universities in the entire free world which teach police science education, according to the police science educator.

Fortunately, over one-half of the higher institutions of learning that teach police science are located in California, accounting for the high standard of law enforcement that the Golden State enjoys.

Inaugurates Program

Grossmont College is one school which has joined the police education movement, inaugurating such a program four years ago. Alfaro, who previously taught at Fresno State College, has been the co-ordinator of the police science program there since its inception.

Three attorneys are currently teaching at Grossmont to more familarize students, which include many local law enforcement officers, with the law aspect of enforcement. Also on the staff are Judges Alfred Lord and Donald Smith of the El Cajon Municipal Court.

Other instructors include William Burgess of the San Diego Police Department, Sergeants Fred Lee and R. Woods of the County Sheriff's Department, Deputy District Attorney Frank Costa, Lieutenant Hugh French of the San Diego City Police and Captain Warren Kanagy, chief of detectives of the sheriff's department.

Questionable Decisions

Alfaro spoke of several decisions handed down by the higher courts which have effected police enforcement.

He said, "It's getting so police officers have to be lawyers to arrest someone. He was recalling several cases where a convicted and admitted criminal was released because of not being advised of his civil rights at the time of arrest.

Alfaro added that police officers are going to have to know law, criminal investigation, chemistry and psychology to be able to perform efficiently in the future.

He also gave a short history of law enforcement since the early days of the Roman Empire.

Friday's Speaker

This Friday's speaker will be Lou Huston of the San Diego Convention and Tourists Bureau. He will speak on the tourist trade of San Diego County.

Pianist Scheduled

A young pianist, Marilyn Neeley will give a concert of Mozart, Beethoven, Chopin, Michaelides, and Scriabin, at San Diego State, Thursday, Feb. 17.

Demo Candidate Tells Of Problems

Wadie Deddeh outlined the problems of a closed society to the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club Wednesday noon at Michael's Restaurant.

Deddeh, political science department chairman at Southwestern College, is a graduate of the University of Baghdad and an expert on Mid-Eastern affairs.

Wednesday's talk centered on the suppression of political activity and the resulting stunting of economic activity in the Mid-East. In addition, Deddeh explained the current conflict between Iran and Iraq, updated by his recent Mid-Eastern summer tour.

Deddeh is a Democratic Party candidate for the 77th Assembly District position now held by Richard Donovan, who has announced his intention to relinquish the legislative seat.

'Cure' Meets Tonight At SV Junior High

A "Recall Rally" has been set for 7:30 p.m. tonight at Spring Valley Junior High School, 3900 Conrad Dr., according to Mrs. Donald L. Hill, chairman of Citizens United for Recall Election.

Dr. Lambert Baker of California-Western University will speak on "Effects of Controversies on Teachers". Mrs. Hill will discuss "The History of the Controversy in La Mesa-Spring Valley," and other speakers will give a presentation of the teaching program in La Mesa-Spring Valley and a summation of the recall effort and how it began.

CURE is currently circulating petitions to recall Dr. Cyril Padfield, president of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board of Trustees, and two members, Dr. William McCandless and Victor Walton.

We have over 400 petitioners in the field but we need 100 more," Mrs. Hill said. "If you're interested in protecting public education and want to stop the school wreckers, call me at 466-3161."

Sup. Boney To Outline Brookside Ditch Plan

Residents who live in the Brookside drainage area, between Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, will hear representatives of County government outline alternate proposals for improving the Fairway drainage channel.

Supervisor Henry Boney this week sent invitations to approximately 400 families who would be affected by the cost to establishing drainage control.

The meeting has been called for Wednesday, Feb. 16 at 7:30 p.m. at the County building, 3146 School Lane, Lemon Grove. Boney said that Warren Barney, director of Special District Services, will discuss an alternate to $140,000 proposed improvement in which the 4,500-foot long channel would be repaved and a protective fence installed.

One alternative, Boney said, would be the construction of an underground system which would cost more than $500,000. Property owners will share in the cost of the project together with the county government, Boney said.

Brookside was subdivided in 1950 and the existing drainage ditch was installed at that time. Warren Barney said that standards have been raised since but that the ditch was hydraulically adequate at the time of installation.

"Area development which brought roads, driveways, rooftops, patios and sidewalks, contribute to fast runoff which fills the canal to near capacity," Barney said.

He also said that "sewage contamination is a possibility." Some septic tanks on the surrounding hillsides, still exist, he pointed out.

Summit Slimoritas of Lemon Grove, a member of TOPS International, held a card party and luncheon Thursday at 12 noon at Leewood Trailer Court.

The event was a benefit for the club. Avis Hinton was in charge.

Mt. Miguel, a member of the Eastern League with La Mesa in the County Junior Wrestling Association, was fifth with 29 points. Encanto finished with 19 points and Heartland with 16.

La Mesa's Hal Stuart, a 125-pounder, was declared the meet's outstanding performer in the event held at Mount Miguel High School.

Miguel had two champions, Lowe in the 100-pound class and Crutcher at 150. Ito was tops for Encanto at 105.

Landis Close To PSC Career Scoring Mark

Grossmont College will face its most important test of the year this Saturday night when it travels to El Centro for a Pacific Southwest Conference basketball encounter with unbeaten Imperial Valley College.

The Griffins were 6-2 in the conference before playing Palomar College last night and 13-8 overall. The conference-leading Arabs are 7-0 in PSC play and 17-0 overall.

In an earlier match IVC whipped the Griffins, 67-38, at Grossmont.

In last week's action, Grossmont broke the school single-game scoring record by piling up over 100 points in a 108-95 win over Mira Costa.

In that high-scoring contest seven Griffins hit double figures with Paul Landis' 23 leading the way. Lynn Lowder, who received his first starting assignment of the year in that game, scored 17 points, 13 in the first half.

Another record was set last Saturday night as Grossmont canned 57 per cent of its field goal attempts while routing San Diego Mesa College, 73-47.

Landis once again was top scorer with 24 points. Steve Howe had 22.

Landis, who has scored 470 points for the year, is only 64 points away from becoming the first PSC player to top the 1,000 point mark for a two-season career. Howe has 302 points for the season.

George Woolf Handicap Set

Some of racing's most famous jockeys will join Mexican saddle starts at Caliente next Sunday in honoring the memory of a turf immortal by accepting mounts in the 20th running of the $5,000 George Woolf Handicap.

The mile and one-sixteenth race, since its inception in 1947, has become established among the west's classics, and the roster of jockeys who have been victorious in it reads like a "Hall of Fame."

Walter Blum, national riding champion in 1963 and 1964, and Bobby Ussery, the highly-successful eastern stakes jockey who currently is having a big season at Santa Anita, will be taking mounts as will Johnny Longden and Alex Maese.

The race will be an invitational affair, and bids have been extended to Hurry Pal, Moving Gem, Rocket Diane, Jubilo 2nd, Serado, Smokey's Gem, Tail Bone, Mitosis, Date With Ali, Mademscorp, Extra Swell, Traveling Scot, Estrado, Craze and Plan Ahead.

It's not how much money one makes these days, it's how far it makes the credit cards go.

Helix Tips Monarchs In League Game, 51-47

The Helix Highlander basketball team is probably glad it will not have to visit Spring Valley again for another year.

The Highlanders won their second Grossmont League loop championship in three years, Tuesday but not before Monte Vista's Monarchs put a scare into the La Mesa crew.

Monte Vista led most of the way until the fourth period when Helix rallied for a 11-5 advantage and a 51-47 win.

Narrow Escape

Last Friday, Helix traveled to Mount Miguel and narrowly escaped with a 53-50 win.

Tuesday's win over the Monarchs was the 11th in a row for the Grossmont League titlists without a loop loss. Monte Vista's record fell to 5-6, two games away from second-place Grossmont High and a CIF playoff berth.

Monte Vista and Helix were tied after the first eight minutes at 15-15. At the end of the half it was 29-28 in favor of the Monarchs.

Lead Increased

The Spring Valley unit increased that lead to 42-40 at the end of three periods.

Helix tied it immediately at the start of the fourth period on a pair of free thsows by guard Stan Nobiensky and then went on to victory following a field goal by center John Skalecky that put them ahead, 44-42.

Scores 19

Skalecky led all scorers with 19 points. John Ugrin had 15 and Rick Barnes 12.

Monte Vista was paced by guard Rick Aylward's 18 and center Allen Phillip's 16. Steve Womack, a senior backcourt ace, scored six points before he was injured in the latter part of the first period.

This Friday the Monarchs will meet third-place El Capitan at home. The Monarchs tipped the Vaqueros, 66-65, in a first round contest.

Next Tuesday, Monte Vista will host Santana at 3 p.m.

Storm Brings 1.3 In. Rain

Another sneaky rainstorm, advertised by the weather bureau as "high cloudiness tomorrow", brought three days of rain here starting Sunday. When the clouds blew away Tuesday, a total of 1.32 inches of rain was left behind.

The storm brought the season total to 17.65 inches. The same date a year ago the rain had totaled 4.80 inches. Before the year was over the total had reached 10.38. An average annual rainfall is 10.88. Rain measuring season starts July 1. Daily measurements are kept for a 24 hour period starting at 5 p.m.

In parts of Spring Valley the rainfall Sunday measured more than 1.10 inches and considerable flooding resulted. No flooding was reported in Lemon Grove.

Executive Board To Meet Feb. 16

The executive board of the Foothills Secondary Council CCPT will meet at the home of Mrs. Lenard Ruth, president, Feb. 16 at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. John Bogen, district president, will start the celebration at 11:30 a.m. by welcoming members and guests. Coronado High School "Cavaliers" will present incidental music under the direction of Lauren Sanders, band director, during the processional of past district presidents escorted by San Diego County superintendents and principals starting with Mrs. Vesta Muehleisen who's term was 1925-27 and ending with the junior past president, Mrs. Mark Owens.

The highlight of the program will come when a district committee headed by Mrs. Elmer Valle will surprise two persons in the audience by presenting them with Honorary Life Memberships in the California Congress of Parents and Teachers. Recipients of this honor are selected for their outstanding service to children and youth.

Assisting Mrs. Paluso are Mmes. Donald Browne, vice president; E. K. Barteau, organization director; James B. Miller, chairman council presidents; Gerald Phillips, corresponding secretary; and Virginia Long of Lemon Grove, historian.

American Field Service Chapter To Hold Annual Rummage Sale

Spring Easter bonnets, antique settees, old and odd china pieces and valuable books are a few of the many thousands of items which will be found at the annual Rummage Sale sponsored by the American Field Service at Mount Miguel High School. The sale is to be held Friday and Saturday, Feb. 18 and 19, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Fayaton Building, Olive and Broadway, Lemon Grove.

This annual sale is one of the ways students of the school, together with the local A.F.S. chapter, raise funds to bring foreign students to the school and also to assist local students who are selected to study abroad.

To date 14 foreign exchange students have come to the school from various countries. Mt. Miguel was the first school in the Grossmont High School District to undertake the project. This year, Miguel has one boy from Germany and another from Italy as well as a local student in Germany.

Anyone wishing to assist this program can do so by contributing rummage and/or buying rummage. For further information contact Elsie Fisher at 463-1981 or Donna Wollitz at 469-6719.

Money Management

By Harold R. Glaeser

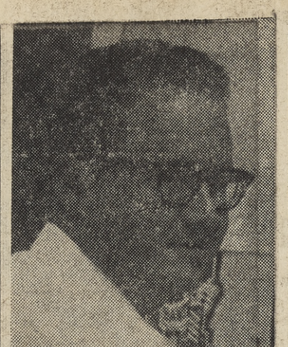
Most of us spend the greater part of our lives accumulating our estates and little or no time in planning its distribution.

My personal observation shows only one person in 25 has a will.

Dying without a will can be the most costly of your deeds. Taxes on the estate will be high, money will go to other than those you want to have it, and delay in estate settlement will add to the cost.

Wills are necessary to appoint a guardian for minor children and to establish trusts for handling funds after death.

For answers to your specific questions, write to Mr. Glaeser in care of this newspaper.



Lawrence Curtis

Band To Perform 'Pops Concert'

"Pops Concert" by the Mount Miguel Instrumental Music Department will be presented Feb. 20 at 3 p.m. in the Mount Miguel Gym under the directorship of Lawrence Curtis.

Tickets are 50c for students and $1 for adults. They are being sold by band and orchestra students. The money earned in this way will be used for trips to the Los Angeles area to participate in Music Festivals held there.

This is the first local concert held this school year and is in answer to requests of the local residents to hear the prize winning band in its own locality.

The orchestra and stage band will also present musical numbers. The program will include selections from "Mary Poppins" and "Canzona" by Peter Mennin and other works.

Local Vets To Hear Medicare Program

"Medicare and the Veterans" will be the program Wednesday at the regular monthly meeting of Veterans of World War I, Barracks 1774 at the regular meeting at 12:30 p.m.

The meeting will be at VFW Hall, 2885 Imperial Ave., Lemon Grove. All veterans are invited.

Doctor To Discuss Medical 'Quackery'

"Because We Care, We Protect Our Health" will be the theme of the San Miguel PTA meeting to be held tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafetorium.

"Quackery in Medicine" is the topic of guest speaker Dr. Tom W. Lyons.

The recipient of the Honorary Life Membership will be honored.

Child care will be provided. Hostesses for the evening will be Fourth Grade Mothers.

Local High School ASB Presidents To Be Honored

Six student body leaders from 55 city and county public, private and parochial high schools will be honored at the ninth annual Washington-Lincoln Laurels for Leaders luncheon Monday in the Palm Room of the U. S. Grant Hotel.

Others who will attend the luncheon are principals of the 55 high schools, as guests, and San Diego businesses, civic, educational and military leaders, as sponsors.

Area student body presidents who will be honored include: William Bruce Masse of Monte Vista and Timothy Ruef of Mount Miguel.

Dawn of a new age in power

Nuclear energy brings a new and vital heat source for the generation of electricity.

Most electricity today is generated by burning oil, natural gas or coal. Realizing that the supply of these fossil fuels faced rapid depletion in the years ahead, your San Diego Gas & Electric Company, in a joint venture with the Southern California Edison Company, launched into construction plans of the San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station several years ago. Scheduled to go into operation in 1967 as the largest nuclear generating station in the world, the San Onofre plant is expected to produce 450,000 kilowatts (more than enough to meet the electrical power needs of a city of half a million people).

This modern nuclear plant along with participation in other nuclear programs is one of the ways your San Diego Gas & Electric Company is working now to assure customers a full supply of low-cost electrical power for the years ahead.

Childlike Patterns Make Spanish Easy

By William Archer
Lesson No. 5
Reading time 3 Min.
Study time 5 Min.

When children learn a language, they follow proven patterns, such as, the flight of geese, the flight of bees or the path of ants. No one tells them what words to learn, what sounds to imitate or what path to follow.

"A little child shall lead them"

For centuries educators have overlooked this simple truth in writing books for foreign language instruction. Does it seem strange to you that a child can learn to think in and speak a foreign language in a short time; when adults, with all of the schools, libraries, instructors and time available to them, cannot accomplish the same feat in years of study? The reason is that the child uses an approach that is "God-given."

How many people have you heard say, "When we lived in Germany (Japan, etc.), the children were speaking the language before we were there a month; but we never were able to learn it"? How many times have you heard, "I studied Spanish in high school (or college), but I never learned to speak it and I don't remember any of it now"? What a waste! The first requisite of a course in foreign languages should be communication—next, grammar. Remember, a child communicates before he ever goes to school at all.

Now, here is "key" no. 4 'y usted'. It is pronounced, in English sound 'e/oo-STEAD. It means, 'and you'.

When a child first wants to use the third person singular in a new language, he employs it with a question: "I want to eat, do you?" We do not conjugate verbs in English as do other Latin-based languages. In Spanish, the child would have to make an entirely new thought invasion in order to say, "Do you want to eat?"; because the person of the verb conjugation changes with the verb ending:

A) I want to eat.
A) Do you want to eat?
B) Quiero comer.
B) Quiere usted comer?
C) key-AIR-o/co-MARE.
C) key-AIR-ray/oo-STEAD/co-MARE?

However, by simply saying, 'y usted' (e/oo-STEAD), the child can use what he already knows and still employ the third person singular. More important, he can (with this one sound) say, "I want to eat, do you?"; "I am going to eat, are you?"; "I ate, did you?" Thus, with one sound, the child uses the third person singular in the present, past and future tenses.

ABOARD CARRIER

Engineman Fireman Apprentice William F. Rady II, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Rady of 2460 Hardy Dr., Lemon Grove, is back on station off the Vietnamese coast in the South China Sea aboard the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Hornet, after a brief visit to Sasebo, Japan.

While in Sasebo, crewmembers of the Hornet gave more than 2,100 units of blood in a three-day "drawing". This blood is being used for servicemen wounded in Vietnam.

Hornet provides a mobile landing field for aircraft and helicopters flying in support of friendly forces in Vietnam.

Novelist Jane Austen was the daughter of a clergyman.
